Thirteen At Altar At Union Avenue Methodist Church

The big revival at the Union Avenue Methodist church is increasing in interest daily. Large crowds are in attendance and much interest is manifested. Evangelist E. O. Hobbs is delivering some strong scriptural sermons on five themes, and many are responding to his invitations to see the Lord.

He believes in and preaches the old time religion and insists that people come to the altar and pray through to a real personal experience of salvation. There were 13 at the altar Monday night and all professed to find what they sought. Rev. Curwen Henley is conducting the singing and rendering splendid services. There have been 60 professions and a number of additions to the church thus far, and there are splendid indications that many more will find the Lord. Services are announced to continue through the week at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.
